Benefits

Scalable, "as needed", Controller services.

Timely and accurate financial statement preparation.

Knowledgeable, experienced professionals overseeing and/or performing accounting functions.

Financial statement analysis providing your business with accurate representation of your company's financial situation.

Balance sheet and working capital management that minimizes inefficient allocation of capital.

"We view Alan Neal & Associates, Inc. not only as a partner but as an extension of our employee team. If we had to bring our financial operations in-house and hire a full-time bookkeeper, controller and CFO, it would cost three times what we are paying now. And I doubt we would receive the same quality service and added value."
